

Philosophy

Lakelaw represents people in financial matters. Lakelaw treats clients with care, kindness, courtesy, respect, professionalism and dedication. We achieve economically advantageous outcomes for our clients. We are dedicated to providing the best service to the people and communities we serve. We identify and utilize the best practices available.

We are an interstate firm – licensed to practice in Illinois, Wisconsin, Missouri, and Minnesota, with offices from Chicago to Kenosha and in the 7 Rivers Region around La Crosse.

Lakelaw strives to excel. Our clients are entitled to excellent service and treatment whether they find us in a big city or in a small town. We focus on doing what we do very well. As a result, lawyers throughout the country refer clients to our firm.

We at Lakelaw believe that law and the rule of law is fundamental to our social contract. We are dedicated to using our legal expertise to improve our clients' lives and to improve society in general. That's why we are leaders in pro bono service and in continuing legal education.

Testimonials

We were referred to Jim McNeilly by another attorney, who felt he was in over his head with our bankruptcy case.

Jim McNeilly and the other members of his staff that we worked with all displayed extreme confidence and knowledge from the start. While there are always uncertainties about the outcome of any case, we felt confident all along that the results would ultimately be to our satisfaction, and they were. As an added plus, we asked a lot of questions along the way and Jim and his staff were always very responsive with the answers, both in terms of quality and timeliness.

“Easy and painless: I was made to feel comfortable from the moment I entered the office. This firm gives personal service, I am remembered by name, and was given all the information I needed. All of my questions were answered to my satisfaction. This was an experience I was dreading, and although bankruptcy is something nobody wants to go through, Lakelaw made it a bearable experience. I give Lakelaw my highest compliments.”

“I have had two opportunities to work with David on a variety of business issues, including work in some areas that were not his specialty. In every case, David and his team have provided me and my company with great advice, tremendous support and a successful outcome. He is fair, patient, and has become a personal friend as well as a business resource. I recommend him with no reservations to anyone who is looking for an attorney in any business or financial matter.”
